IAP9 Rec'd PCT/PTO 29 AUG 2006

Phase is March 18, 2005, which corresponds to the filing date of the corresponding PCT application. Accordingly, EP 1464546 is not prior art to the present application under 35 U.S.C. Section 102(b) since it was not published more than one year prior to the effective filing date of the United States patent application. EP 1464546 is not prior art to the present application under 35 U.S.C. Section 102(e) since the priority date of the present application, March 23, 2004, constitutes a constructive date of invention prior to the publication date (October 6, 2004) of EP 1464546. Accordingly EP 1464546 is not prior art to the present United States patent application.

Applicant further notes that neither US2004/0207217A or DE 10314905 A, B, which are indicated to be related to EP 1464546 in the International Search Report, constitute prior art to the present application. US2004/0207217A was published on October 21, 2004 which is not more than one (1) year prior to the effective U.S. filing date (March 18, 2005) of the present U.S. National Phase, and the priority date of the U.S. National Phase (March 23, 2004) precedes the filing date (March 25, 2004) of the published U.S. application.

DE 10314905 was published on November 4, 2004, which is not more than one year prior to the effective U.S. filing date (March 18, 2005) of the present U.S. National Phase, and the priority date of the U.S. National Phase (March 23, 2004) precedes the publication date (November 4, 2004) of DE 10314905.

In view of the above, neither US2004/0207217A or DE 10314905 A, B, constitute prior art to the present U.S. National Phase.

The remaining four references identified on PTO-1449 were cited in the International Search Report for the corresponding PCT application in Category A, indicating that each of these four references merely defines the general state of the art, and is not considered to be relevant to the PCT claims. Applicant notes that the claims of the present United States National Phase corresponds to the PCT claims.

Also enclosed is a copy of the Written Opinion issued by the International Searching Authority in connection with the corresponding PCT application. The Written Opinion indicates that EP 1464546 was not considered because its publication date is subsequent to the priority date claimed in the corresponding PCT application. The Written Opinion concludes that the PCT claims, which correspond to the claims of the United States National Phase, are patentable over the four remaining references
